

THE NALT CHRISTIANS PROJECT

NOT ALL LIKE THAT

Host a “NALT Sunday” At Your Church!

Have you made a Not All Like That (NALT) Christians* video of your own, and now want to do more to help spread the message of LGBT equality? Then host a NALT Sunday at your church! It’s simple to do. On a chosen Sunday, have everyone in your church stand up, and with one voice declare, “We’re not all like that!” Use your cell phone or camera to film that great moment, and submit that video to the NALT Christians website. That’s all there is to it!

Also, on either that day or another, you can make a little filming spot somewhere on your church grounds, set up a camera (or, again, simply use a cell phone that makes videos), and one-by-one have your church’s members come in, sit before the camera, and make their own personal NALT video.

One camera; one station; one fun event. The result? A lot of NALT videos! What a terrific way to help further spread the message that not all Christians believe it’s a sin to be LGBT.

Let us know if you have any questions at all about doing a NALT Sunday event at your church. We’ll be glad to help in any way we can.

Yours in spreading the true love of God,

The NALT Christians Project team

 Modeled after the It Gets Better Project, The Not All Like That (NALT) Christians Project is a website (www.NotAllLikeThat.org) where, via their homemade YouTube videos, LGBT-affirming Christians proclaim their belief that there is nothing anti-biblical or at all inherently sinful about being gay, lesbian, bisexual or transgender.*
